

"So They Called the Town Concrete"

The Centennial reprint of "So They Called the Town Concrete" is now available for $25.00. Dan Royal is printing for us in perfect bound soft cover, the new edition features enhanced photographs and a more readable type font. New cover graphics were done by Philip Johnson. Stamped also on the cover is the official Concrete Centennial Logo. The books are numbered for 200 books. Copies will be available at Alberts Red Apple, the Museum, or by mail.

The first reprint of the Charles Dwelley classic, originally published in 1980, was printed in spiral bound in 2004 with a new foreword by Jim Harris. These reprints are still available for $15.00 each

Written with the wit and insight of the town's longtime newspaper editor, "So They Called the Town Concrete" documents the early days of "Baker" and "Cement City", the development of the cement and wood products industries, Concrete's incorporation in 1909, and the town's subsequent boom years.

Dwelley's newsman instinct for a good story fills the pages with human interest. Historic facts are interspersed with tragedy and triumph, community spirit and banditry, ingenuity and general high jinks. Dozens of photographs document area landmarks and residents.
